COUNCILLORS TO RETURN UNOPPOSED

Altona's nine-man ratepayer council will remain unchanged for a further twelve months following the re-election of Crs. Les Crofts, Harry Weaver and Bill Sommers, next week.

All three councillors will be returned to council unopposed on polling day, Saturday, August 26.

Their re-election means that they will each serve the community for a further three years before standing for council again.

Crs. Crofts, Weaver and Sommers were unopposed when nominations closed on Tuesday last week.

Cr. Crofts, the father of the council, will commence his third three-year term with Altona Council.

He first stood for council in February 1966, during a by-election to become the only independent councillor in Altona at that time. All the other councillors were A.L.P. members.

Cr. Crofts was re-elected when he had to stand for council again in August that year, and in 1969 he was successful again.

Married with three children, Cr. Crofts, a Civic Parade resident, has lived in the western suburbs for 36 years and in Altona for 23 years.

He was elected Altona's first Mayor, when Altona was proclaimed a City in 1968.

PORTFOLIOS

During his six and a half years with council, he has held the council portfolios of town planning and environmental control. He is currently chairman of the Finance committee.

Cr. Crofts is renowned for his active participation in community and charitable organisations.

He is a Crown Land Bailiff and Justice of the Peace, chairman of Seaholme Primary School Committee and secretary of the Altona Branch of the ANA. He is a Trustee of both the Williamstown General Cemetery and the Memorial Park Crematorium and Lawn Cemetery.

For the past six years, he has been president of the Altona Youth Club.

Cr. Crofts served an apprenticeship in foundry moulding and is now senior vice-president of the Institute of British Foundrymen and a part-time lecturer at the RMIT.

Cr. Harry Weaver has been on Altona Council since 1968 and is tipped to become the next Mayor of Altona. Cr. Weaver won his seat on council during a by-election in 1968, after an unsuccessful attempt in 1965. He was re-elected in August, 1969.

Cr. Weaver is Deputy Mayor. He initiated the name for the now rapidly developing Altona Meadows area and pressed for the stocking of Cherry Lake with fish.

He is council's Board of Works Commissioner and holds its public relations portfolio. He is a Justice of the Peace, a Crown Land Bailiff and vice-chairman and a life governor of Altona District Hospital.

APEX ORIGINAL

He is a foundation member of Altona Apex Club, which he was president of from 1964 to 1965, and is a member of Altona Working Men's Club.

Cr. Weaver was born in the district and lives with his wife Lorna and their three children in Millers Road.

Cr. Sommers won his seat on council in 1969. He is a Commissioner for taking Declarations and Affidavits and holds council's social welfare, health and communications portfolio.

He is president of the Second Altona Scout Group and a committee-man for Brooklyn West Primary School. Cr. Sommers is secretary of the Altona Elderly Citizens' Welfare Committee and council representative on the Western Suburbs Municipal Association and the Victorian Council for the Ageing.

He was amongst the Altona North people who lost their homes when properties were demolished to clear the way for the freeway leading to the Westgate Bridge.

He fought hard for the rights of people under similar circumstances in Altona North and has since rebuilt in Altona North where he lives with his wife Kathleen and their three children.

The disgrace of Footscray Hospital

Special Star report by Sean Hanrahan

Footscray and District Hospital has become the victim of harsh official Government neglect. It is overcrowded, falling in many cases into a state of disrepair, and is drastically inadequate for the area it serves.

Up to 50 emergency cases a week are being turned away or delayed, and the management is now thinking seriously of putting up an army field tent on the front lawn to carry out operations in while vital maintenance work is carried out on the theatres inside.

The pressure has caused strain amongst the staff and disillusionment among the management.

Some doctors have described the situation as "intolerable" and say they would be within their rights to refuse to work at the hospital.

The shocking story of the plight of Footscray and District Hospital was revealed exclusively to the Star this week by the hospital's medical superintendent, Dr. Peter McCleave.

Dr. McCleave decided to reveal the full facts despite possible comebacks because "the situation is becoming soul-destroying".

He was given full support in his disclosures by the MLA for Footscray, Mr. Robert Fordham, several leading surgeons and doctors in the west, and other community leaders.

In several interviews Dr. McCleave revealed these facts:

● The hospital has been trying for the past eight years to get an extra 250 beds. And during the past 10 years only 60 beds have been added.

● The ratio of beds to 100,000 of population in the western suburbs, which the Footscray Hospital serves, is 1.7. The ratio for the country areas of the State is eight and for the metropolitan area as a whole it is 3.7.

● More than 100 pregnant women a month are turned away from the hopelessly inadequate midwifery section.

● The hospital has no

"Intolerable" conditions

provision for the aged or handicapped.

● Because of the pressure on the hospital's complex of three theatres, no significant maintenance work has been carried out on them for eight years.

"The guts of the problem is that we simply cannot cope any longer," said Dr. McCleave.

"We have people coming from Tullamarine to Geelong to Bacchus Marsh. And we have only 315 beds. The facts show that Footscray issues the most number of flats permits of all suburbs, so the problem is continually snowballing.

"Not a few hundred yards away from the hospital are the new flats in Gordon Street ... 215 elderly people are there. More problems for us."

Dr. McCleave said the problem that worried him most was that of the operating theatres. He said the situation was "intolerable."

"We did 5007 operations last year in the three theatres. Even a major teaching hospital in the city like the Alfred does about 9000 with nine theatres.

"We do so many operations in them there is no time to carry out necessary major maintenance work ... even the lights in the theatres are not good enough, and there are not enough of them. "In one day recently there were 15 operations scheduled, and during the day another 11 emergency cases had to be done. And nine surgeons had to handle all that."

Jumble sale a success

Williamstown Red Cross raised the record sum of $1170 in its annual jumble sale held at Williamstown Town Hall.

The jumble sale was organised by the Deputy Superintendent of the Williamstown Service Company, Mrs. J. Grant.

Old bottles

Have you any old bottles or jars to spare?

Mr. Stanley, of 41 Mary Street, Spotswood, could put them to good use.

He sells them and donates the proceeds to Legacy.

Donors are asked to leave their bottles at Mr. Stanley's door.

He's in line for a grand tour

Brian Murphy, of Altona, has won area selection in this year's Mobil Youth Travel Awards, which will be held in Footscray soon.

Australia-wide, nearly 2000 applications were received for the awards, which will enable one student from each State to undertake a three-week tour of Australia next January.

At the area selection panel, the judges will choose one student to go on to the State finals, which will be held in Melbourne, in September.

Judges at the first stage selection — when one student was chosen to represent his or her school — said the standard of applicants was exceptionally high.

The tour itinerary, which has been completed, includes visits to areas of Australia's latest developments in industry, agriculture, mining and tourism.

Each Mobil award is valued at $2000 in travel, accommodation and a spending allowance.

The lapidary people meet

The next meeting of the Western Suburbs Lapidary Club will be held on August 17, at Electra Street Methodist Hall, Williamstown, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will take the form of a film night.

Visitors and intending members are welcome. The club meets at the same venue each month.

Something for them to do over holidays

The Victorian YWCA Victorian Council has again come to the fore in providing recreational entertainment for school children throughout the holiday period.

During the first week of the September school holidays — Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday — the YMCA will be conducting croquet classes for high school girls.

During the second week of the holidays, Monday, August 28, Friday, September 21, will be holding a holiday programme for primary school children, at Werribee Presbyterian Church.

The programme will include outings to Geelong, to see Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory, Adiscott Adventure Camp, and Puffing Billy.

The activities centred around the church will include cardboard construction, "yabbing", a bike gymkhana and games.

Disgrace of hospital

Dr. McCleave claimed the position at this stage indicated that there was little hope of Footscray Hospital getting the extra 250 beds it needed for another five years.

The 250 beds, he said, would necessitate a seven or eight storey block, which would cost around $5 million.

"The basic bricks and mortar of the hospital was all right for the area 10 years ago. But for today it is woefully inadequate," he said.

"Except, perhaps for pathology, every department of the hospital is lacking. Even the office staff and the canteen."

"We need a seven or eight storey building with 250 beds now, not tomorrow or the day after... plus the services that would go with it."

Dr. McCleave praised the efforts of the hospital's board of management in trying to get a just deal for the hospital and added that it was now disillusioned and "quite desperate."

He said the Hospitals and Charities Commission had originally agreed in principle in 1969 to extend to 500 beds.

But in April this year, Dr. Lindell, representing the Hospitals and Charities Commission, had told the hospital's board of management that he could not give a definite answer and that "the needs of Footscray must be considered along with the needs of other hospitals."

Thought UK licence was OK here, but..

A British migrant had thought it would be in order to drive for a time on a British licence, Footscray Court was told last Thursday.

The court was told that the man had also had an international driving permit, but it had expired when police stopped him, in Footscray Road last March 23.

David Jarvis, of Kororoit Creek Road, Altona, pleaded guilty to charges of unlicensed driving and speeding.

Mr. G. Miller, SM, was told by Mobile Traffic Squad police they had followed Jarvis at a steady 65 mph.

When stopped, he had produced a United Kingdom driving licence.

He had said he was a permanent resident of Victoria.

Jarvis said in an unsworn statement to the court he had not realised he could not drive in Victoria on a British licence.

At the time he had intended applying for a Victorian licence, and since had done this.

Mr. Miller fined Jarvis $30 for unlicensed driving and $60 for speeding.

He said as the speed had been particularly high, Jarvis' licence would be suspended for a month.

$10 MILLION PLASTICS COMPLEX FOR ALTONA

A new, $10 million complex at Altona is expected to start production of high density polyethylene early next year.

Union Carbide Australia and New Zealand Ltd. has built the complex alongside its existing low density polyethylene plant.

Werribee holds a trade fair

Werribee will hold its first trade fair on August 25, 26 and 27.

The fair, which has been organised by the Werribee Rotary Club, will take place in Centenary Hall with exhibitions and amusements taking up most of Wedge Street as well.

About 100 exhibitors, from both local firms and some of Australia's biggest manufacturers, have arranged to take part.

A good line-up of entertainers, including Fredd Bear and Judy Banks, will visit the fair to entertain the children on school holidays.

The trade fair opens at 10 a.m. on Friday, August 25 and on Saturday, August 26 and finishes at 10 p.m.

On Sunday, August 27, the fair will be open from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m.

High density polyethylene is used mainly in the production of bottles, moulded products and pipes.

It has essentially different properties to low density polyethylene, giving products greater rigidity.

The new plant will draw its feeder-stock, ethylene, from the Altona Petrochemical Company, which is jointly owned by the Esso and Mobil Groups.

And there was a recent reduction in selling prices of low density polyethylene following the Government's acceptance of the Tariff Board's report on industrial chemicals and synthetic resins in February this year.

But Union Carbide still lifted net profit by four per cent in the six months ended June.

This increase was achieved on an 11 per cent. rise in sales.

Asian bid

Union Carbide intends to tackle the South-East Asian and Japanese export markets with output from the plant.

Up to 20 per cent. of initial output is expected to be sold for export.

Current planning provides for the plant to produce about 60 million pounds of high density polyethylene within the first 12-18 months of operation.

It is anticipated that about 12 million pounds will go to overseas markets.

Provision has been included for the new plant to be expanded beyond the 60 million pound-a-year level.

The ultimate production capacity has not been disclosed.

Union Carbide's 1971 annual report forecast that heavy expenses associated with the new plant would

The youths beat the cook

Two youths stole three $1 notes from a Berrick Square, Altona North, shop while its owner was cooking a hamburger they had ordered.

The youths went to a shop operated by Mr. Angelo Karageorge and while he cooked their hamburger, they leaned over the counter and took the notes from a cash drawer.

Police have been unable to obtain a description of either youth.

"Hogwash" on mini bikes says father of users

TO THE EDITOR

SIR,—In answer to all that hogwash printed in the last issue of the Star about mini-bikes, I would like to say that I have two sons who own bikes and I am not one of these fathers who are supposed to invest about $300 to get rid of my kids so I can be on my own.

As far as pollution goes, it seems that you can't even own a car or a motor mower. There is only one solution so far as I am concerned and that is to buy yourself a horse and buggy (no pollution).

I get quite a lot of enjoyment watching my sons on their machines. There is a track at the Old Williamstown Racecourse that up to 60 kids use every weekend.

So if you have any complaints, see their parents — don't take it out on honest kids.

As for the manufacturers turning these lethal machines loose, then they must also be guilty of turning out a motor car, as there are more accidents in cars than on mini-bikes.

Careful check on oil in sewer

Board of Works employees at the Altona Sewage Purification plant are keeping a 24-hour watch for oil.

The board has already had problems with oil at its Heather-ton plant and is determined to stop any oil getting in at Altona.

Oil which enters a purification plant forms a skin over the surface of the tanks.

This prevents oxygen working on the matter and purifying it.

The resulting scum put- rifies and produces a strong stench which per- meates the atmosphere for miles around.

The Star is assured by the board that oil does not present a health hazard.

A board spokesman added that people would not be in contact with it in the event of oil getting in.

The spokesman added that it was important to keep a careful watch on the area because of the large numbers of refi- neries and oil treatment plants.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

The re-election of Altona Councillors W. L. J. Crofts, H. Weaver and Bill Sommers, next week, will mean a saving of $1,000 by ratepayers, because there will be no election.

Council has taken out a $100,000 loan to carry out work including "essential ways" of developing the street construction, Blenheim Road, Altona North, serving the new high school, Burgess Road, for industrial development in that area and council contribution towards the provision of a convenience block on Cresser Reserve, in the vicinity of the boat ramp. The schedule will also include work on reserves.

A START has been made on the Cole's New World Supermarket, in Port Street, Swanson Brothers, the builders for the Coles Haanover group, have built their sheds on the site parking area in readiness to start the project. They hope to have the building completed by Christmas.

AT A RECENT Board of Works function, Council's Board of Works Commissioner, Cr. Harry Weaver, met the Chairman of the Port Phillip Authority, Brigadier Malloy. Brigadier Malloy has accepted an invitation to visit Altona and discuss "means and ways" of developing the foreshore. He was advised by Cr. Weaver that a master plan was needed for the foreshore, in order to cater for the thousands of beach users in the western suburbs.

AT COUNCIL'S recent Pollution Control Committee meeting, it was successfully moved that a sub-committee be formed to investigate and report on the possibility of creating a large green belt, or a buffer area of quick growing trees between industry and housing, in Altona West.

DAVID STREET branch sewer area (1895) which will service the main business area and adjoining properties, is now 54 per cent. complete. Ransane Reserve branch sewer area (1890) is now 78 per cent. complete. Both areas were to be completed last month, but are two months behind schedule due to bad ground conditions.

THE NATURAL THING

By Bill Ross

The average spectator of a VFL football match vastly underestimates the speed of the game. Once the ball is in his hands, the individual player is subjected to an incredible amount of pressure. What he does with that ball is a decision he must make at computer-like speed. For if he falters or fails to take into account an unknown variable (i.e. a player behind him) he will be instantly flattened.

If a football deteriorates into haphazard punt-kicking and looking for a team-mate downfield, it is generally because of the pace of the game.

Spectators also fail to notice the numerous incidents of unfair play. They see only the reportable, blatantly offensive acts of violence.

For during 100 minutes of football the average player physically gets for every kick he pays. Consequently at the end of each game his body is bruised and sore and often this routine discomfort is aggravated by a severe facial injury.

These pressures of speed and violence result in a high turnover of players. In general the average footballer's playing career spans only three or four years. It is only the undefeated champion who is able to shrug off these pressures for 10 years or more.

Footscray and Altona's Stewie Magee has shown the qualities which make him such a champion. Only small, 5 ft. 8 in.

tall and around 12 stone, Stewie has played ten seasons and 170 games of League football with Footscray and South Melbourne.

His dedication to the game should be an example to young players who are contemplating playing top grade football.

For years he has trained three times a day to reach the peak fitness demanded by League football.

Just recently, world champion athlete, Ron Clarke, stated publicly that Magee (according to tests administered at the Melbourne YMCA) was the fittest footballer in Victoria.

While fitness is important, it is not everything — a player must have other skills. In his respect, Magee's greatest attribute is his ball-winning ability. Week after week, he continually gains around 30 kicks a match.

Couple this with his ability to generate teamwork (he finished with the highest number of hand-passes in League football last season) and you have a very valuable footballer in any side.

Although under-rated by the press who are ever vigilant for "loudmouths" and "characters" to feed to a gullible public, Stuart Magee has achieved most of the things a Victorian footballer aims for.

He has captained a VFL team represented the State and has been on an overseas football tour.

Stewie, the pain, the sweat, and the tears were worth it.

THE STARS

WEEK COMMENCING AUGUST 16, 1972

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Impulsive action will lead to regrets this week. You may have a brilliant idea or be offered a fantastic proposition, but you will not benefit if you act on these without careful consideration. In matters of color, mixed shades predominate. The most prominent number: three.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): This week promises to bring important changes which will be advantageous to you and those close to you. Listen to advice given on Wednesday and watch health risks during the early hours of that day. Colors to watch: Light pink and green. Recommended numbers are: eight and nine.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Decisive action will be needed this week if progress is desired. Your decisions may not necessarily be the right ones, but they will, at least, be a step forward. An exciting social event is forecast for this week. There are no color preferences. Six is an excellent number.

CANCER (June 21 - July 20): Heavy expenditure should be avoided this week. Elements ruling money matters are undergoing an upheaval and you will find it difficult enough to balance your budget without incurring new debts. Good news concerning a loved one can be expected. Best color: Yellow. Best number: three.

LEO (July 21 - August 22): Family affairs will take prominence during the early part of this week. Harmonious relations may be jeopardised if all parties refuse to compromise on a certain issue, and it may be left to you to break the deadlock. Favored shade: Dark green. Numbers to watch: four and six.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22): A depressive cycle could cause you to feel off color at the moment. This in turn may make your temper edgy, so you should avoid situations where you are likely to lose control. A time to relax. Ivory and mauve are the best colors. Nine is an excellent number.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22): Events up until Wednesday should be both stimulating and absorbing with social matters taking prominence. However, a sudden and unexpected crisis of an emotional nature may strike on Thursday, and you should be prepared for instant action. Best color: Red. Best Number: seven.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21): An excellent week for travel, outdoor activities and new projects. Some financial relief can be expected by Scorpios whose expenses are higher than their incomes. Not a good time to rely too heavily on others. Favored shade: Brown. Numbers to watch are: eight and nine.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 22): The bright spot of this week will be an encounter with an old friend. Generally, the pace will be rather slow and will frustrate those who are working hard towards a particular aim. But gains could result from marking time. Blue is the best color. Lucky number is: two.

CAPRICORN (December 23 - January 20): A very upside-down sort of week is forecast. One moment everything will be sailing along splendidly, and the next moment confusion will reign. Provided you take the bad patches in your stride, you should battle through unscathed. Favored shade: Gold. Recommended number: six.

AQUARIUS (January 21 - February 18): Events during the first half of this week may not be to your liking. Difficult people and difficult situations may give you some worrying moments. But the air will clear dramatically as the week progresses. There are no color preferences. Five is the favored number.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20): A fine week for pushing ahead with ideas and plans for feathering your nest. Also a good week for improving your relationships with others. News from a long distance could bring exciting surprises. In matters of color, mixed shades predominate. Lucky numbers are: three and four.

There is just one magic word to say — Steiner. Steiner cares for your hair, all their products condition. Lets start with your shampoo for example.

Pearl foam for either normal, oily or dry hair, or for a change, add extra sheen with Herbal shampoo. This is suitable for all hair colors.

The weeks after you have colored your hair, whether it's only with one of the many Steiner Glo Ahead colors that last six to eight weeks, or the permanent Color Classic — you can make a longer lasting color by shampooing with the appropriate color Highlight shampoo.

These are in gold, Auburn, copper or the silver ash for blondes or blonded hair.

When troubled with hair or scalp conditions, maybe dandruff, dandruff — remember to ask for Steiner S3 Medicated Cream Shampoo. You will suffer no dryness or brittleness to your hair as with other medicated shampoos. Speaking of dandruff — why only treat it for two minutes, once or twice a week?

Steiner gives you D.C. lotion for the removal of dandruff. D.C. lotion has a mild astringency action, stimulating the scalp and strengthening the hair. D.C. lotion works on the dandruff particles disintegrating them and the scalp then rejects it. The lotion then can go to work on the hair follicles and gland ducts to continue the cleansing action.

The D.C. lotion bottle has a nozzle that bypasses the hair and lets you put lotion here and here on the scalp. Massage a little to spread — now leave it to dry and start working. Can be reapplied tomorrow if you wish. Just shampoo with S3 Medicated whenever you want to.

Normal hair only needs Steiner Creme Rinse applied after each wash.

Drier hair can have Sebosin applied, a little each day, to replace natural oils. Setting lotions — there is one for dry hair, oily hair or an extra strong one. You may prefer an aerosol.

Lighten your hair quickly and safely with B Blonde. Quicker than the usual lightener, and with added conditioners, add shine and lustre to your hair, or your wig, with Sixty 6 hair dressing.

When your synthetic wig needs cleaning — think only of Steiner Synthetic Wig Shampoo.

Bye.

LET LUCKY BE FREE

They called him Heldig which is Swedish for lucky and they found him in the grounds of the Williamstown Girls High School.

They are five 4C pupils at the school: Cassie Hall, Angela Pike, Sandra Cole, Sheryl Brown and Janice Morgan.

And Heldig is a seagull the girls found suffering from a broken wing.

That was three weeks ago and after tender nursing and a couple of visits to the vet, the bird was taken to the Melbourne Zoo on Monday with a plea.

The girls wrote to the manager of the zoo, asking him to release Heldig when he is better.

He is a "wild thing," they say, and this is what they wrote:

Would you please release the seagull when his wing has completely healed.

We found it as a wild bird and would like to keep it that way.

Could you please write to us at the following address (that of the school) and tell us the condition of the wing in a couple of weeks.

Thank you very much for looking after him for us.

MOTORING

with PAUL CODY

The sharp increase in the number of tow trucks attending road accidents is being closely watched by the Transport Regulation Board and the Victorian Automobile Chamber of Commerce

The chamber's executive vice-president, Mr. Athol Kelly, said recently:

"The large number of tow trucks attending accident scenes these days is due to the fact that the tow truck population in Melbourne is reaching saturation point.

"The situation had been reached where some tow trucks were creating serious road traffic hazards at accident scenes in the metropolitan area. With up to 10 trucks attending two-vehicle smashes the position is quite ridiculous.

"I'm not, however, suggesting that the tow truck industry has reverted to the situation 10 years ago when VACC-backed legislation had to be brought in to control tow truck operation and standards in this State, as there have been substantial improvements since those days due to TRB control and strong efforts by towing firms to present a better image to the motoring public.

Tow truck scramble attacked

"But we support the recent TRB move to make all new tow licences non-transferable. It is a logical step to take to dissuade trafficking in licences.

"Tow operators must have a TRB licence for each truck — this law is being designed to sensibly limit the number of vehicles operated at accident scenes. However, the chamber believes some companies have been increasing the number of tow trucks under their control by buying licensed vehicles from smaller operators."

Mr. Kelly said: "The chamber, the Government and the TRB are all equally concerned and desire to prevent these practices from getting out of hand in this highly competitive industry.

"The TRB on its part, has announced that it will discourage applications for unrestricted tow licences for some time ahead and that licences may contain a no-transfer clause inserted in them when they come up for renewal.

"The chamber has also been asked by the TRB to examine again the possibility of zoning tow truck operations in suburban areas," he added.

Mr. Kelly said discussion would be held with officials of the Towing Operators' Division to see if a zoning scheme could be made to work. In addition the behavior of tow truck drivers generally would come under scrutiny by the TRB and the chamber.

However, the problems were complex and would take some little time to implement.

Mr. Kelly said that there were a number of developments in the tow truck industry which were disturbing. One practice frowned on by the chamber involved the use of radio-controlled scout cars which arrive at accident scenes in advance of tow trucks.

The driver then proceeds to sign up drivers in the smash.

He said that this practice was against TRB regulations and often against the best interests of the driver of the damaged vehicle.

Last word in radio

"Top quality car radios at realistic prices" — this is the brightly lit sign that welcomes car radio buyers to G. and J. Marks' tiny shop in Nelson Place.

As both new and used radios are on sale, the accent is on quality, not age or model.

Customers at Marks' find most success with radios from well-known local manufacturers, Ferris, Astor, AWA, Kriesler and HMV.

Some better known imported brands — such as Hitachi, Sanyo and National — are also available.

The shop is an authorised car radio sales and service centre. Most of the Ferris service work for the western suburbs is carried out in the air-conditioned, fully equipped service department.

In charge of this section is Don Marks, with help from Wally Trew. Both men are qualified technicians.

They can advise customers on the best choice in car radio for a particular make of car, or a special model to suit requirements such as interstate reception.

Most buyers like to have a "tailored" or specially designed radio for their car.

Some of the most popular cars, such as certain Holden and Falcon models, require special radios; or at least special fitting kits.

Car owners attempting to update their cars, but retain the existing car radios, can purchase hard-to-get installation equipment, or, failing that, trade in on the right radio at a low change-over price.

Customers can also choose from the huge range of aerials, trim plates and mounting equipment, and can be assured of personal service.

Manager John Marks is available to speak to customers most of the time.

In all, the tiny shop offers a complete car radio service — and this is only one department of a very interesting shop.

Torana club

Major Melbourne Holden dealership, Garry & Warren Smith, is sponsoring the establishment of a club for Torana owners.

The theme of the club will be motor sport, and all the social aspects that a club can maintain.

The inaugural meeting will be held at the showroom of Garry and Warren Smith, 1575 Dandenong Road, Oakleigh, on August 29, at 8 p.m. The guest speaker will be Harry Firth.

Court to probe tug disaster

The Minister for Public Works, Mr. Murray Byrne, has ordered a formal investigation by a Court of Marine Inquiry into the sinking of the tug Melbourne last week.

The disaster resulted in the death of five crew members.

The tug sank in heavy seas near the Williamstown lighthouse early on August 9.

Those lost in the tragedy were Robert Booth, chief engineer, of Hudsons Road, Spotswood, Robert Ryan, greaser, of Coonawarra Drive, Lara, George Boneham, greaser, of Deavey Court, Altona, Alex McDonald, greaser, of the Pier Hotel, Williamstown and William Corns, the tug's cook.

Corns lived in Vulcan Grove, Williamstown.

FIVE SAVED

Five survivors were rescued by the ship, the New Holland.

They were the captain, Robert Roest, of Brook Drive, Altona, able seaman Brian Banner of Gladstone Road, Briar Hill, Robert Lucas of Woodville Grove, Chelsea, John Logan of Elphin Street, Newport and Joseph Buckley of Mason Street, Newport.

The Minister announced the inquiry after the submission to him of details of a comprehensive preliminary inquiry conducted by the Marine Board of Victoria.

Under the direction of the Minister, officers of the Marine Board began their inquiry early Wednesday morning and have worked continuously to gather details of the sinking of the Melbourne.

The court will consist of a County Court Judge, who will be advised by at least two assessors. These assessors will be selected from a panel, chosen by the Marine Board, of persons having special skill and experience in nautical matters.

The Minister indicated that this official court will be held in an open court and will be freely available to the public.

The court will be asked initially to give the answers to a comprehensive series of questions formed by the Marine Board on the circumstances and causes of the capsizing of the Melbourne, Mr. Byrne said.

The Minister gave assurance — the court will be convened at the earliest practicable date.

But he noted that it would first be necessary to complete, as far as possible, the searching and salvage operations at the site of the tragedy.

Williamstown Police say the robbery happened between 7.30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Williamstown Ladies Bowling Club has been wilfully damaged.

Vandals smashed two exterior windows of the clubrooms but stole nothing.

Police allege the damage was done between 11 p.m. on August 4 and 11 a.m. on August 8.

Thieves in Williamstown have set themselves up for cigarettes and whisky for quite a while.

They smashed a window in the front door of the Hobsons Bay Yacht Club and took $200 worth of cigarettes and whisky.

The theft took place between 5 p.m. on August 10 and 9.30 a.m. on August 11.

The yacht club must have been quite a popular spot last week. A camera was taken from the back

A car belonging to Allan Leonard of 42 Yarra Street, Williamstown, was stolen from the street outside his home last week.

The car, which was left locked, was stolen between 10.30 p.m. on August 8 and 7.45 a.m. on August 9.

The registration number is GVV-794.

Trust has agreed to a request from Williamstown Council to provide access to the shelter on the Port Melbourne side of the ferry crossing.

Meeting demands halt to power station plans

About 400 Williamstown residents and opponents of the State Electricity Commission have resolved to demand the State Government unconditionally stop the construction of a second power station at Newport.

And they insist that no other power station ever be again considered for Newport, or anywhere else in the metropolitan area.

This resolution was carried unanimously by last Sunday's public meeting in the Town Hall called by the Williamstown Conservation and Planning Society.

Among the guests were two representatives from the Environment Protection Authority, representatives from the Port Phillip Conservation Council and Williamstown councillors, Dawes and Lalor.

Reach five miles

Dr. Cyril Curtin told the meeting pollution from the station would reach areas five miles away.

He said the power station would increase pollution on days of temperature inversion by up to 30 per cent.

Cr. Peter Lalor said many people believed Williamstown would die if the power station started production.

Following this theme of the suburb dying, the protestors marched to The Strand Reserve behind a hearse bearing dead fish.

Here balloons on 600 ft. of cord were flown to give residents some idea of the height of the power station's chimney.

Speakers at the reserve included: representatives from Port Phillip Conservation Council and Mrs. Proctor of the Combined Pensioners Association.

Mr. Stanley of Spotswood, spoke on damage to property by present air pollutants and Mrs. E. Harris, a trained nurse, spoke to the ladies of respiratory and cardiac ailments and the affect of pollution from the power station.

WILLIAMSTOWN WILL GET OWN THEATRE

Williamstown will soon have its own theatre, according to the latest issue of Cues and News, the theatrical company's own newspaper.

The Little Theatre has only been rented, but now the company is in a financial position to buy it.

Rehearsals are in progress for Vin Foster's production of the Prime of Miss Jean Brodie, by Jay Presson Allen, which is the Little Theatre's second production with the Pumpkin Theatre.

The cast is headed by June Lownds in the title role.

Christine Saunders has been cast as Sandy, Gillian Wadds as Miss McKay and Janet Stahl as Sister Helena.

Bill Martin, who last appeared in Williamstown three years ago in Make Me An Offer, will play Gordon Lowther, the music master.

The play will be at Williamstown from September 6 to 16 and at the Pumpkin Theatre from October 7 to 21.

The curtain rises

One name that constantly appears on Williamstown Little Theatre's programme is actor-producer Vin Foster.

By "Thisbe"

Many subscribers will remember Vin's first appearance as Danny in Night Must Fall, others will recall The Matchmaker, Nelson's Choice and many more excellent roles.

His most recent successes have been in The Odd Couple and reading the sonnets in The Swan of Avon.

His productions have always been popular.

Many beginners have been encouraged to continue on stage after the first shaky parts because of Vin's patience.

This year Vin has decided to take a rest. He will not be responsible for the decision making associated with the staging of a season of plays.

Just for fun, he may take a part in a play or help front-of-house.

His production of The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie will be staged from September 6-16.

This play demands great attention to detail so Vin and his cast are working very hard to make it successful.

Mr. Alec Colville would like to hear from club secretaries and the general public who are interested in buying tickets. His phone number is 3977812.

The next meeting will be a social afternoon held at the Newport Library Hall on August 25.

Left house, in moved thieves

Goods worth $24 were stolen by thieves who raided a Newport house on August 9.

Mr. Pola Fajic left his house in Susman Street, Newport about 12.15 p.m. and found it had been ransacked when he returned about 3.35 p.m.

A transistor radio and a pair of towels were stolen.

Detectives at Footscray CIB believe the ransacking was in a search for money.

They do not know how the thieves entered the house.

Although a wire screen on one window was torn, the window was locked, as were all others and doors at the house.

Strauss report okays station

Williamstown Council last Monday night accepted a report on the new Newport power station by Dr. Werner Strauss, and agreed to have it made public.

Dr. Strauss a chemical engineer, was briefed by the council to give an unbiased report on submissions made about the power station by the State Electricity Commission and the Williamstown Conservation and Planning Society.

Dr. Strauss concluded that the new power station would not have a significant impact on the residents of Williamstown, although it would add to the overall air pollution of the Melbourne basin.

He added that whether this was significant or acceptable would be decided by the Environment Protection Authority.

Land values affected

Dr. Strauss also concluded that the power station could also effect residential land values in the immediate vicinity of the station.

He said it was a matter of personal opinion whether the power station offended aesthetic tastes.

The new station would not be a major noise factor in the area and pollution levels would be well below the American Environment Protection Authority's standards.

Nelson Gallery celebrates

The Nelson Gallery, Williamstown, is currently showing a collection of mixed paintings, prints and pottery as part of its Third Anniversary Exhibition.

Opened in August, 1969, the gallery has maintained a constant display of art works by well-known Melbourne artists and potters.

As well as providing for the needs of people living in the western suburbs, who are interested in art, the Nelson Gallery has frequent interstate visitors, who have particular requests for some of the more specialised prints and engravings which are available.

The current demand by collectors for early Australian prints and engravings has led the director, Bob Cunningham to specialise in these works. He also has some old masters. Service groups and associations may be interested to know, that the gallery does not restrict itself to weekend business only. It is available for small meetings of parent groups and social clubs during week nights.

There is a moderate commission if the works are sold. Paintings can be left during gallery hours between 2 p.m., and 5 p.m., on Saturdays and Sundays.

Maroons down to Frankston

Altona City soccer team once again failed in front of goal and was defeated 1-0 by a more direct Frankston.

The Maroon defence is doing a sterling job each week but there is not one player up front who is capitalising on the backs play.

Copley, Healey and Murray are in excellent form, capably backed up by the uncanny skill of Jimmy Ackers. These four give little away.

Coach Harry Sutherland has achieved remarkable results with his defence but it is time he concentrated on the forwards. Little and Hynes battle gamely but they receive a minimum of support.

With one or two changes they will take a power of beating.

Taylor, Herman and Micevski are all players who should be used in some way or another.

GREENS OPEN

The official opening of the Williamstown Bowling Club's greens will take place at the club pavilion on Friday, September 1, at 7.45 p.m.

The seniors defeated Ormond-Glenhuntingly 5-0.

Safe hits: Pedretti 2, Harris, Johnston, Parnaby, Treadwell.

Best: Harris, Pedretti, Johnston.

Next week is the final round of home and away matches to be played at Straw Field at

VIKINGS SLASH WILLY'S HOPES

Altona City's magnificent Vikings put paid to any chance Williamstown had of making the final four by blasting them off the Fearon Reserve last Saturday.

Altona produced their best form for the season, combining brilliantly, hand balling with skill and intelligence and playing on at all costs.

Williamstown tried hard all day and did not look as bad as the scores might indicate. However, they were no match for the irrepressible Vikings.

The forward work of Altona City was perfection itself, and the back line was impassable.

Altona won the ball at almost every centre bounce and used the ball to great advantage.

Each player contributed whenever the occasion demanded.

Those to show out in an even side included Martin Crump, in great form, dominated play throughout, winning countless kicks around the ground and putting himself in first on every occasion.

Glen Morgan was in great form also on the wing. This speedy, courageous little player is never beaten.

Russell Ewen, in the back pocket, repelled many attacks and in doing so, directed his foot passing and clearing kicks with deftness.

Ron Schwabe had a great tussle at full-forward with former VFA star full-back, Tom Russell.

Ron's efforts in notching 10 goals, and creating many opportunities for team mates, made him a clear winner on the day.

Geoff Ewen displayed coolness and authority throughout the game marking courageously and kicking beautifully.

Geoff was particularly damaging around the forward line.

Enzo Valenti was brilliant on a half-forward flank. His inspiring high marking and ability to contest continually were winners for Altona.

Unfortunately, Enzo left the ground with a knee injury shortly after the start of the third quarter.

Goal kickers, R. Schwabe 10, S. Chatfield 4, G. Ewen 3, M. Crump 3, E. Valenti, Maltis-dale, G. Wilson 2, P. York, G. Munro 1.

Final scores: Altona City 28.17 (185) Williamstown 2.7 (19).

Under 18

Altona City mastered Newport in a fiery preliminary final encounter at Newport Oval, last Sunday.

Down in the first half, the Vikings revived themselves late in the game to run out easy winners in an entertaining match.

At each meeting of these two clubs throughout the season, Newport have managed to win by a few points and due to this they were extremely confident of repeating their past performances.

This appeared to be the case early in the game, but a new look Altona City applied themselves to the task admirably and showed form that must make them a big chance to knock off Brooklyn in next week's grand-final.

Solid defence and the will to win, were the major factors in the side's good performance.

Cecil Martin, at full-back, gave a perfect exhibition, featuring beautiful drop-kicking and strong marking under a great deal of pressure.

Wayne Jones picked up a "million" kicks on the wing putting them all to good use and generally inspiring his teammates.

Peter (beastlike) Mildren Hall gave a classic exhibition at centre half-forward, and was the main force behind the side's comeback.

John Hampton applied his pace and "heart" to great advantage, rushing in where only fools would go and coming off with the ball.

Jock O'Connor was damaging around the ground, using his skill to initiate countless attacks.

Alan Willett was solid all day, carrying the burden of the physical work.

Goalkeepers: P. Churchill 5, A. Donnelly 5, K. Churchhill 3, J. O'Connor 2.

Best: W. Jones 19 pts., P. Mildrenhall 15, J. Hampton 13, C. Martin 11, J. O'Connor 6, A. Willett 3, K. Churchhill 2.

Final scores: Altona City 17.8 (120) d. Newport 9.17 (73).
